Our Mission

Carroll Educational Group was founded by Jonathan Carroll to help learners of all ability levels improve academic and personal performance. We teach clients a variety of effective strategies that are proven to assist with school functioning, organization, ADD/ADHD, executive functioning, learning disabilities, social/emotional needs, and life skills. Support for clients is also provided through the involvement of families, schools, teachers, and other professionals. This helps ensure that our work with clients is successful on a variety of levels.

About Jonathan Carroll

Jonathan has several years of experience helping children and adults meet personal, professional and educational goals. He specializes in assisting clients with ADD/ADHD, Executive Functioning deficits, school functioning concerns (organization, study strategies, etc.), life coaching, and Special Education (learning disabilities and social/emotional concerns). As an adult managing his own ADHD, Jonathan helps his clients achieve success through a variety of effective strategies and techniques.

Jonathan received a B.A. in Communication from DePaul University in Chicago and a M.A. in Learning Disabilities with additional studies in Social/Emotional Disorders from Northeastern Illinois University in Chicago. His graduate thesis examined ADD/ADHD and the use of medication along with alternative intervention strategies.

Jonathan founded and manages Carroll Educational Group and IEP Experts. Additionally, he is on the clinical staff at The Child, Adolescent and Family Development Center. Jonathan's professional memberships include CEC (Council for Exceptional Children), CHADD (Children and Adults with Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder), LDA (Learning Disabilities Association) and COPAA (Council of Parent Attorneys and Advocates).

Jonathan is considered an expert in the field of education. In addition to helping individuals and families, he is a regular speaker at conferences and seminars highlighting current trends in education. He is a featured guest on ABC, FOX and NBC newscasts in Chicago discussing various topics on education.
